PROSPECT OF GUARD BEING CALLED OUT

If Force is Sent Immediately to France Local Soldiers May Go

COMPANY A GETS IN SHAPE

If as tentatively planned an American army is sent to the front in France within the next 30 days to strengthen the French line, the army may include Pennsylvania and New York national guards. In this event Monongahela valley soldiers may be among the first called into actual service. Company A of Monongahela, in which a number of Charleroi young men are enlisted is making ready and will be in shape to leave if the call comes.

From Washington late Monday night came the information that an American force, whose size is as yet undetermined may be on the fighting line in 30 days time. In all probability the message stated the men sent first will be part of the national guard of the states whose organizations have had the most actual field experience. Both French and English military experts urged that American forces be sent without delay.

Company A, Monongahela, at present has 102 men enrolled, four of these being doubtful. Losing these Captain E. W. Hartland would have 98 men. Together with this, there are about 50 recruits who have enlisted within the last month or so, but who have not as yet become regular members of the company. If it is likely that if a call came for mobilization the company would be required to recruit up to war strength. This would mean that the Monongahela valley company of the Tenth would still need a few men. Enlistments are being received by Captain Hartland, who says that if he finds on countenances there are too many, he will turn over a number to Company C of Somerset.

Mount Gretna is being put in shape as a mobilization camp, and war preparations are going forward with much rapidity.

MONONGAHELA MEN ENTER COAL BUSINESS TO SHIP FROM MINGO

The high selling price of coal has resulted in two more Monongahela men going into mining on a small scale. D. M. Swickard and A. P. Cochrane, both well known business men of Monongahela have purchased the Chas. Kennedy coal near Crookham stop out Mingo and expect to begin active work of removing coal at once. The tract contains eleven acres and the coal is said to be near the surface. It will be necessary, however to sink a slight drift to remove it.

The new owners expect to mine it at that place and transport it to Riverview by auto trucks, where it will be loaded for river shipment. Later it is expected to load by rail at a dumping tippie to be located at Riverview. The purchase price was $10,500.

OF ROMANOFF REGIME DESTROYED BY REVOLUTIONISTS AFTER ABDICATION OF CZAR

Portrait of Emperor and Royal Emblems Removed From Chamber of Duma—Shop Decorations Cast Into Fentanka Canal

When the Russian Duma assembled after the recent revolution in that country it was a solemn gathering. The assembly chamber, which had once been adorned with relics of the Romanoffs, has been stripped of all its decorations. A portrait of the late Czar Nicholas, which had occupied the elaborate frame over the speaker's platform, shown in the picture, had been removed and the royal crest torn from all fixtures. Throughout Petrograd the royal emblems which had decorated the entrances to shops were torn down and thrown into the Fentanka Canal. All relics of the old regime were destroyed.

MYSTERIOUS FLIGHTS WORRY MONONGAHELA

Invaded City But Probably Students Of Thompson Aviation School

Mysterious flights of an aviator over Monongahela have alarmed residents the past week. Saturday morning about 2 o'clock a good view of the birdman was obtained by Presley Lamer, night watchman at a greenhouse. He heard the sound of the engine and finally located the airplane in the heavens. The aviator, he says, had a powerful searchlight.

Daniel Dodd, employed at a bakery, happened along while Lamer was watching the airplane and the two together viewed the evolutions of the machine. It made as if to land in the greenhouse and the two spectators ran for cover.

The plane, however, flew away in the direction of Uniontown. It is believed to have been driven by a pupil of Dutch Thompson's military training school at the Speedway.

MERCY SHOWN DESECRATORS OF THE FLAG

Two Penitent Canonsburg Youths Appear for Sentence Wearing Flags

JUDGE GIVES GOOD ADVICE

Mercy was shown two penitent Austrians who plead guilty before Judge J. A. McIlvaine in the county courts Monday to desecration of the flag. The two, whose names are John Kosa and Andy Yerman, of East Canonsburg, plead guilty, appearing in court wearing flags on their lapels.

They admitted they had visited a speakeasy at Alexander Place, near Canonsburg, but did not seem to know that they had torn up a United States flag and trampled it in the mud. They were intoxicated.

The two youths were paroled after being given some good advice by Judge McIlvaine. Neither of the two seemed to realize the gravity of their offense and they did not seem to be criminals. Judge McIlvaine told them America would do all it could for them, but that they must respect the flag.

ALLOWED TO DRINK BUT NOT TO SELL LIQUOR

"We usually require, as one of the conditions of a parole, that a defendant quit drinking, but that would kill you and the court would then be guilty of homicide."

This remark was made by Judge J. A. McIlvaine Monday at Washington to Louis Hundertmark, formerly a well-known Washington baker, who had entered a plea of guilty to selling liquor without license. Hundertmark had been the steward of the Washington Social club, which operated on West Chestnut street and was closed up a week ago by Officers F. H. Mitchell and Byron Knestruck. The court granted Hundertmark a parole without the condition that he abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors; but he must refrain entirely from dealing in intoxicants in any manner and otherwise must behave himself as a law-abiding citizen. In case of violation of his parole he must pay a fine of $1,000 and undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for eight months. Before the parole is granted the defendant must pay the costs.

Root to Carry Sympathetic Message to New Russian Government From U. S.

Great American Statesman and Member of Hague Peace Conference to Assist in Adjustment of Country's Affairs

Elihu Root, a statesman and politician, twice a cabinet officer under the late Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt and long a leader in the U. S. Senate, is making hasty preparations to depart from this country at the head of a commission to visit Russia. His appointment by President Wilson, announced only a few days ago, followed the administration's decision to make representations to the new constitutional government and to lend such assistance in that country, in the adjustment of internal affairs as may be consistent at this time.

The time of departure or the port from which the commission will leave are not announced, but it is certain that no time will be lost now that arrangements have been completed. Mr. Root will convey to the new government and the people of Russia a message of sincere sympathy and inspiring hope in the name of the American nation; what other service he may offer is not known.

Probably no man in the United States is better qualified by experience to undertake the task which has been set for Mr. Root. He holds a membership in The Hague Peace Conference, is President of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and, in 1912, was awarded the Nobel Peace prize. He has been honored in many countries and is known in the United States as one of its shrewdest and ablest diplomats.

DOWN AND OUT SOCIETY WOMAN AGAIN LEADS

ALL HER FAMILY AND A HOST OF FRIENDS PLEASED

For a long time she made an uphill fight against a bad case of nerves and ill health. Doctors, Sanitariums and Medicines without any result. She was a plucky best to brace up and put on account of the family though gradually kept growing from bad to worse to the dismay of her husband and children.

Things were indeed looking tough when the housekeeper said to the husband: "I am going to break my rule and butt into family affairs for once even if I lose my job, for I firmly believe that the trouble with the mistress is that she has gone the 'Social Whirl' so hard she is all run down and her blood and nerves need the same medicine I took. Do you remember my condition last spring? I took Phosphated Iron and believe me it made a new woman of me in short order and I wish you would try it for the missus."

Ready to try anything the husband phoned to his druggist for a box and in a few days the whole family noticed the improvement. It just seemed as if he woman's whole body was starving for Phosphorous and Iron the way it took hold, her cheeks filled out, had a healthy rich color, appetite returned and she had more strength and vitality than in years, and absolute freedom from all nerve trouble, slept like a top.

The same story can be told by hundreds of men and women who have experienced the benefits of Phosphated Iron. Every doctor will tell you that you must have plenty of Iron and Phosphorous in your system if you want healthy, strong bodies and nerves. Get a box of Phosphated Iron today and make a fresh start, feel like doing things once again.
